

Welcome to OpenRisk

The open future of risk management

Risk Management in the Post-Crisis World?

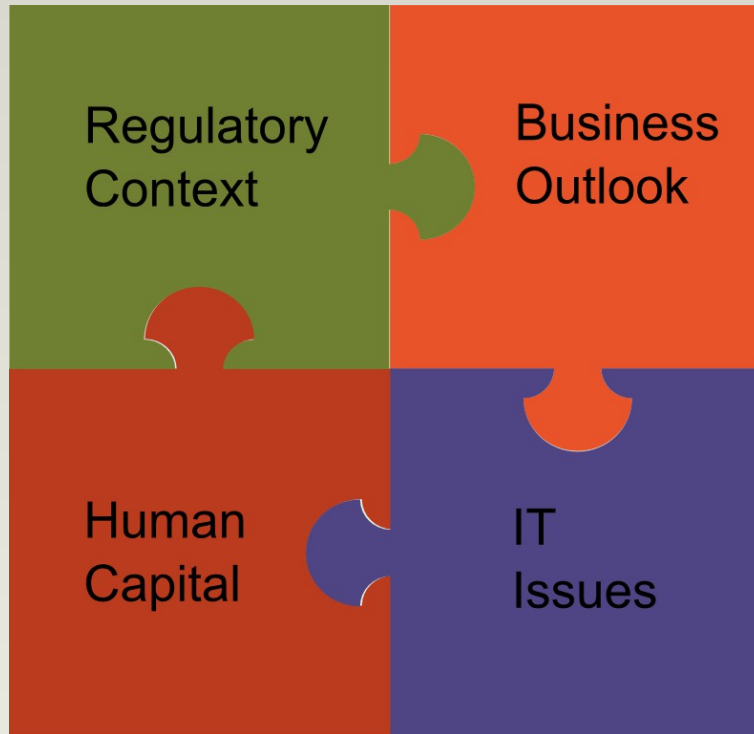

After six years in crisis mode solutions to the risk management puzzle are long overdue

Time to look for some new perspectives

Risk Management in the Post-Crisis World?

The solution to this puzzle requires flipping some of the pieces – taking a step back and removing some constraints

This change of perspective must come from within organizations... But we need catalysts to help along

Catalysts are the tools and processes that accelerate interactions within and across organizations

Lets focus on these tools then!

OpenRisk aims to provide Catalysts:

Tools to put risk managers center stage and best placed to solve the problems they need to solve

🎓 Inspiring and effective Training in risk management, using the best eLearning techniques
